Tina Beard will present Great Lakes Regional Archives (Chicago) Getting the Most out of Your Visit

Ms. Beard will discuss the Great Lakes Regional Archives. The National Archives at Chicago has numerous records and other resources that can be used for genealogical and family history research. She will discuss records in-house and online and the wealth of information for researcher of all levels. In-house include city directories not currently available online, naturalization's, court papers, maritime records and Native American genealogical resources. Online the National Archives system offers millions of digitized records from photographs, maps, letters and much more. Come discover what the National Archives has to offer!

Tina Beard, owner of Tamarack Genealogy, is a genealogy & local history librarian at a Chicagoland public library. She holds Master of Library and Information Science degree with a specialization in Archives/Preservation. Tina has won multiple research and digitization grants over the last decade to preserve and digitize historic documents and photographs. She lectures nationally on topics including genealogical methodology, military research, and photo and archival preservation.

Be sure to download Tina's handout from the website before the presentation. It will be posted as soon as we have it.
